

BACKUS HOSPITAL GRADUATION

19th Class of Nurses Receives Its Diplomas—Will be Last Under Two Year System—Address to Graduates by Dr. E. Oliver Winship of New London—Four Prizes Awarded.

The graduating exercises of the class of 1914 of the Training School for Nurses at the William W. Backus hospital were held in the parlors of the Hugh Henry Osgood memorial parish house on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock.

Winship T. Williams, president of the executive board presided. After the rendering of Kaiser Friedrich by the Harmony club, prayer was offered by Rev. Edward S. Worcester.

Qualifications for a Nurse.

President Williams then introduced Dr. E. Oliver Winship, M. D., of New London, who addressed the graduates, six in number, on his idea of a trained nurse.

The result of their examinations is no criterion of their success as nurses, he said. A student may be able to place theory on paper in book form yet be unable to apply themselves in the sick room. In the first place he is a real woman, plain and whole-souled.

Be dignified, but not sufficiently to make it painful; don't be afraid to smile, but that also not enough to be painful. The sunshine of the sick room is the pleasing, loyal, firm, but useful nurse. Study your patient and adapt yourself to his surroundings.

By a finely measured sympathy and a wise combination of affection and firmness you will gain the confidence of your patient and the family. Be honest with yourselves and with your patients; tell them the truth and get their help to fight their diseases.

Dr. Winship said he believed that a nurse should be truthful to the patient regarding his condition. Sometimes the doctors or members of the patient's family do not want the patient to know his true condition. When a patient realizes that he is being kept in ignorance, he loses hope.

Should Have Tact.
Another qualification a trained nurse should have is tact. You will be liked or disliked according to your ability to make yourselves agreeable. When the patient is convalescing and the nurse has a little spare time it is not beneath her dignity to help the tired mother. The specific for curable diseases are few; the real cure is a matter of plain nursing.

From your training you will be better women—the eyes of your soul will be opened, and the range of your sympathies will be widened. There should be for each of you a busy, useful and happy life. A greater blessing than this the world cannot bestow.

Useful because you will care for those who cannot care for themselves. Happy because busy and useful as happiness means being absorbed in some vocation which satisfies the soul.

In your public capacity you are of the greatest blessings of humanity, occupying a place beside the priest and physician, not inferior to either in your mission, as there is no higher mission in this life than the nursing of God's poor.

Diplomas Presented.
The Harmony club was then heard in the rendering of The After Glow and President Williams presented the diplomas to the graduates, who are as follows:

Bertha J. Sabrowski, Gertrude M. Grogan, Barbara Newton Fox, May E. Eastland, Julia M. Kilday, Annie C. Dudley.

In presenting the diplomas President Williams said the graduates have the best wishes of the board for a happy and useful life. Professor H. A. Tirrell then presented the class pins and the presentation of the class prizes was made by Dr. Edward B. Brewer.

Prizes Given to Four.

Four prizes were awarded the graduates for efficiency along different lines. The prize for efficiency in the operating room, $10, is given by Mrs. Charles L. Hubbard. This prize was divided between Miss May E. Eastland and Miss Gertrude M. Grogan. The next prize, $10, awarded by Mrs. Hugh Henry Osgood for medical efficiency, was presented Miss Julia M. Kilday, while a gold piece offered by Dr. Brewer as a prize for efficiency in anatomy and physiology was awarded Miss Barbara Newton Fox. The other prize, $10, offered by the W. W. Backus hospital for general efficiency, went to Miss May E. Eastland. The exercises were concluded by the rendering of A Serenade, by the Harmony club.

Reception at Nurses' Home.

A reception followed at the Nurses' Home, the musical numbers being rendered by the Harmony club. The class of 1914 is the 19th graduated from the training school and is unique in that it is the last class to be graduated under the two year system as hereafter the classes will be graduated under a three year system.

HARVARD VARSITY WON BY ABOUT SIX FEET.

Made Good Time in Best Brush of the Season With Henley Crew.

Red Top, Conn., June 9.—In the best practice race on the Thames this season Harvard's varsity eight tonight defeated the second or Henley crew by about six feet. The unofficial time for the two miles was 22 minutes and 40 seconds, which is fast for the Thames course. The tide favored the oarsmen and the wind was quartering. The Henley crew jumped into the lead and maintained it for half a mile. Both crews scowled for the rest of the race, the varsity finally nosing out the Henley crew by about six feet.

The gentlemen's four defeated the freshman four in a mile race, winning by a length in the unofficial time of 22 minutes and 22 seconds. The freshman eight had a short paddle.

The Harvard oarsmen are maintaining a strong guard about the Regatta tonight, for fear Yale will try to recover their flag which was stolen to-day. The blue pennant is flying upside down under the crimson banner.

COACHED YALE MEN FOR INDIVIDUAL FAULTS.

Coach Nickalls Polishing Off Yale First and Second Eights.

Gales Ferry, Conn., June 9.—Yale's first and second eights had a mile brush on the river tonight, after the crews had paddled three miles, the first boat winning by a length. No time was taken. Coach Nickalls coached the men as to individual faults.

The freshman eight had a four mile row up the river under the coaching of Armstrong and Gianni. The water was rough at the time the crews went out and the practice was short.

State Epileptic Colony.

The regular monthly meeting of the trustees of the Connecticut Colony for Epileptics was held at the Hotel Heublein, Hartford, Tuesday afternoon. Routine business was transacted. It was said that the buildings of the colony at Mansfield were open to the following: To Coram, a thing was running smoothly. There are at present twenty-one patients in the colony, and it is said that more than enough applications were on hand for the accommodations, which are for eighty patients. It was also said that it is not probable that a formal opening would be held, as the trustees have followed the advice of Governor Baldwin and "gotten down to business."

D. A. R. ON OUTING AT GALES FERRY

Faith Trumbull Chapter Guests of the Misses Geer for Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of Faith Trumbull chapter, D. A. R., was held on Tuesday and took the form of an outing at the Pines, the summer cottage of the Misses Geer at Gales Ferry. A pleasant social time was enjoyed, enlivened by the crews practicing on the river and, during a ramble through the willows, the witness of the capture of the Yale freshman flag by the opposing forces.

After the picnic luncheon, the meeting was called to order by the regent, Mrs. Will L. Stearns, and the annual reports for the year were read. Mrs. Elsie E. Rogers, the historian, gave an excellent review of the year's meetings and spoke of the aim of the chapter to establish a museum for Colonial and Revolutionary relics. One hundred dollars towards this fund has resulted from the year's efforts and one gift toward the exhibit has just been made to the chapter. The regent, Miss Ellen Geer, gave the present membership as 111, a gain of 5 in the past year. Miss Geer also read an interesting paper describing the historic and scenic glories of the Thames river.
